MEDIA PACK 2023

Working with brands to create compelling content that challenges perceptions, influences thinking and catalyses change.

Prospect
Escape the Echo Chamber

Prospect is the UK’s leading serious monthly magazine.

We’re totally independent. We never tell people what to think or how to vote.

We attract the best writers who craft long-form journalism about the things that matter.

Our discerning audience values long-term thinking, rational argument and quiet analysis.

They also like warmth and fun: Sheila Hancock on growing old; Michael Brearley on sport.

We like conversations where two opposing sides try to agree. Extinction Rebellion meets Big Oil. The trans debate.

Escape the echo chamber. Choose Prospect!

Alan Rusbridger
As a true independent, with no political affiliation or agenda, Prospect is motivated by progress, not profit.

We are in, in fact, a not-for-profit organisation, meaning every penny we generate is invested back into the platform, driving value for both our readers and our partners.

Prospect boasts some of the finest longform writers in journalism today. It is not merely the breadth of its stories or the quality of its analysis, but the space it allows for thought that sets it apart from so much else.

Emily Maitlis, journalist and broadcaster

INSIGHT REPORTS

Using our expert knowledge and array of well-respected writers, Prospect produces a range of bespoke theme or sector-specific supplements throughout the year.

Free to subscribers, these supplements allow Prospect to dive deep into key issues and themes alongside contribution from political, industry, media and academic experts.

"Prospect has a knack of identifying key issues before they hit the mainstream."

Jonathan Evans, Former DG, MI5
Nesta came to us with an exciting task: to produce a collection of policy ideas for a fictional Minister for the Future whose brief was to tackle the long-term challenges that don’t get the attention they deserve.

Working with Nesta, we commissioned 24 experts, including Sunder Katwala, Frances O’Grady and Ethan Zuckerman, to write short letters to the Minister on themes ranging from misinformation to the climate crisis, from ageing populations to economic inequality.

The result was a lively supplement of world-class thinking, with ideas ranging from building a people’s commission on immigration to refreezing the arctic.

We worked with Prospect to produce a supplement called Minister for the Future, which was included in the December 2022 edition. From pitching the concept right through to design and publication, the team at Prospect were fantastic to work with. They delivered a high-quality product and helped us reach a really important audience for Nesta’s work. We look forward to working together again in 2023.

Mark Byrne
Head of Media and Marketing, Nesta
Averaging 16,100 weekly downloads, our podcasts feature the brightest minds discussing the ideas that matter most in politics, society and culture.

As well as our own regular podcasts such as the Prospect Podcast and Prospect Lives, we also host bespoke sponsored podcasts. Pre, post and mid-roll advertising spots are available.

With advertisers like:
A competition to find the brightest minds across the globe.

What it is: Prospect’s annual search for the top thinker. We present a list of intellectuals who are coming up with the most exciting and game-changing ideas in their fields—from war analysts, climate scientists and app developers to the philosophers rethinking sex and gender.

Past thinkers have included icons such as Elon Musk, Kendrick Lamar, Fiona Hill and Demis Hassabis.

Timing: In The Winter Special issue which will be published on the 6th December we will shortlist 25 names and profiles. The public will then vote on their ‘Top Thinker’ via our dedicated website page.
The votes will close on the 8th January and Prospect will announce the Top Thinker together with an interview in the February edition available on January 25th. There will be an exclusive section to showcase the winner and their achievements.

The opportunity: In a Prospect first, brands will have the opportunity be associated with global trailblazers setting the standard for the next generation.

Ten pages of print–unique brand placement / newsletter & podcast sponsorship / online activity / advertorial.

Next steps: For sponsorship opportunities please email jonathan.hart@prospectmagazine.co.uk or call 07912 090 033

Top Thinker categories will include:

- Climate
- Freedom
- Technology
- Economics
- Geopolitics

EVENTS

Holding an entirely neutral position, Prospect provides trusted platforms to engage and inform.
Prospect is unrivalled in its position to drive debate, challenge perceptions and deliver outcomes for growth across business and industry.

Prospect and Q5 share the same curiosity and passion to tackle long term systemic issues faced in the UK and around the world.

This drive led us to partner on a series of live debates, featuring esteemed thought leaders and senior figures from the world of business, politics, and journalism. These events aim to address the long term issues facing society.

With that, Prospect naturally bring their intelligence, deep insights and broad knowledge to create, facilitate expertly and host these incredible, unique events in their impressive auditorium.

The events have quickly gathered a strong following amongst business and public sector leaders and Prospect’s own members. They are always thought provoking, enlightening, inspiring, providing both challenge and ideas.

Annabel Tonge, Q5 Marketing Director
EVENTS

ROUNDTABLES INCLUDING PARTY CONFERENCES

From our conveniently located Westminster residency, Prospect has unrivalled facilities to host stimulating parliamentary events in addition to its ever-prominent fringe programme at the political party conferences.

Through its events, Prospect is able to rely on expert contributors drawn from business, politics and academia to explore the ideas behind the government policies that are shaping the world we live in.

Our events are naturally supported by the authoritative reach of Prospect magazine, which provides unrivalled insight to subscribers across the body politic, including 646 members of parliament (ABC certified) and many civil servants.

Prospect has a breadth, intelligence, and proudly liberal outlook, which is needed now more than ever in our national conversation.

Tristram Hunt, Director of the Victoria and Albert Museum
Conveniently located in the heart of Westminster, our 90-seat auditorium provides a great venue for awards ceremonies.

We run a series of public and private events throughout the year including the annual Think Tank Awards and the Parliamentary Staffer Awards.

We also make it possible to record your event with the use of our professional, on-site studio facility.

"Prospect has become the place to go for thoughtful reflection from some of Britain’s leading intellectuals. I’m so grateful it exists."

Angela Saini, science journalist and broadcaster
PARTNERSHIP APPROACH

As a trusted source of insight and analysis for over 25 years, Prospect has earned a reputation for neutrality and impartiality, making it an attractive platform for brands seeking to align with these values.
We work collaboratively with our partners to design thought leadership projects that deliver on business objectives.

By leveraging our digital and social channels, and working with a media-savvy editor, we have devised a formula for minimising the expenditure on our partners’ time and resources, whilst maximising impact and engagement.

“I strongly recommend Prospect’s international coverage for its shrewd and reliable analysis, which provides the vital context often lacking in the news cycle, and explains what is happening under the surface of events.”

Peter Ricketts, former Foreign Office permanent secretary
